

Election Act of the Ontario Coalition of Indigenous Peoples

JANUARY 1, 2017

TABLE OF CONTENT

To be completed

ONTARIO COALITION OF INDIGENOUS PEOPLES ELECTION ACT

PREAMBLE

WHEREAS The right of self-determination of peoples is a fundamental principle in international law and is embodied in the Charter of the United Nations and the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights;

RECALLING Common Article 1, paragraph 1 of these Covenants provides that:

"All peoples have the rights of self-determination. By virtue of that right they freely determine their political status and freely pursue their economic, social and cultural development.";

WHEREAS the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples is the most comprehensive, universal international human rights instrument explicitly addressing the rights of Indigenous peoples;

AFFIRMING that Article 3 of the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples states, "Indigenous peoples have the right to self-determination. By virtue of that right they freely determine their political status and freely pursue their economic, social and cultural development."

AFFIRMING further that Article 4 of the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples states that "Indigenous peoples, in exercising their right to self-determination, have the right to autonomy or self-government in matters relating to their internal and local affairs, as well as ways and means for financing their autonomous functions."

REAFFIRMING that Article 5 of United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples states that "Indigenous peoples have the right to maintain and strengthen their distinct political, legal, economic, social and cultural institutions, while retaining their rights to participate fully, if they so choose, in the political, economic, social and cultural life of the State."

RECOGNIZING that the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples is a key reference and standard that must be respected by Canada in any decision-making or programming affecting indigenous peoples at all levels of operation;

RECOGNIZING further that on November 10, 2010 Canada formally endorsed the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples and stated that it strongly supports harmonious and cooperative relationships between

Indigenous peoples and states including being guided by the principles of equality, partnership, good faith and mutual respect;

RECOGNIZING further that OCIP is an affiliate of the Congress of Aboriginal Peoples that has a Political Accord with Her Majesty the Queen in Right of Canada and which includes inter alia the implementation of the inherent right of self-government as it relates to off-reserve Aboriginal peoples;

WE THEREFORE set forth the Election Act for the election of the Chief and Vice Chief and the District Governors of the Ontario Coalition of Indigenous Peoples.
